CaringFAMILY Donors

The MacNaughton family and Loberto family share a moment at our CaringFAMILY celebration.

MONICA LOBERTO SPEAKS ABOUT WHY GIVING BACK IS IMPORTANT

Giving back to the community is important to us, and the hospital is the one institution that every Cambridge family will eventually benefit from.

Both our daughters were born at CMH and we have made Emergency visits throughout the years. Each time, we have been impressed with the compassion and expertise the staff demonstrated.

My husband Angelo and I both serve in various capacities as board and hospital volunteers. When we learned that the funding of all patient equipment was the responsibility of the community, and received no government support, we knew that our donations would have a tangible impact. Especially now that the new wing has opened - patient areas are being updated and new equipment needs to be purchased.

Becoming a Caring Family was a way for us to help our community directly. We all need a local hospital with the best resources available, for those in the community facing a health crisis. When we speak to our children about giving back we point to the new wing and the improved equipment. Our girls can see how giving can positively impact the entire community.

Inspired by our example, we are thrilled that we are now seeing our daughters leading their own fundraising initiatives, such as requesting donations for CMH in lieu of birthday presents.

Join a distinguished group of CaringFAMILIES by investing in CMH.

Recognition includes your family name listed on our CaringFAMILIES Donor Wall in the Emergency Department waiting area, as well as our Main Lobby Donor Wall. You will also receive invitations to special donor events throughout the year. A CaringFAMILY gift begins at $100,000, pledged over 3-5 years.
